ACADEMIC WRITING AND RESEARCH PUBLICATION IN INDEXED JOURNALS
28 & 29 JULY, 2022

Academic writing is an integral part of research and generation of scientific knowledge. It varies from other kinds of writing and follows a logic that is quite different from other forms of writing. It has been observed that most of the research scholars across various disciplines find it a strenuous and stressful process in bringing forth a quality academic writing. Thus, this webinar aims to disseminate the skills and knowledge of writing a research paper; to prevent plagiarism and to bring out the scholarly research papers for publication. Moreover, it intends to provide an opportunity to participants to broaden the horizon of their knowledge in identifying and choosing indexed journals namely UGC – CARE list, Scopus, SCI with high impact factor.

Objectives of webinar

- To comprehend the importance, types, process, content and layout of the academic writing in disseminating scientific knowledge;
- To enhance the mechanics of academic writing in language and flow of themes;
- To identify the opt software for quality writing, avoiding plagiarism, managing references and applying ethical considerations;
- To find out a right journal and make successful submission; and
- To learn the attributes of best paper for acceptance and the steps in follow-up, review, revision, rejection and rewriting in the post submission phase.
