

Puppetry Workshop | February 20 & 21, 2018

Resource person: Mr. Charles Barnabas and Mrs. Gwendoline, Witnessing Ministries

Session Proceedings

The puppetry workshop was conducted by the Department of Digital Journalism as a requirement of the paper – Public Relations. The two - day session included a few hours of theory on the traditional and contemporary styles of puppetry used in India and its role as a communication (PR) tool. The students were also given a kit with which they learnt how to make their own puppets.

The department has initiated this programme to train the student in puppet play which is a theatre form. The actions, gestures and spoken part are used for story telling which an effective PR tool is. The students will use the learning outcome, during their PR campaign to create awareness about the importance of health and hygiene in the chosen rural community which is scheduled for the month of March, 2018.
