REPORT ON STUDENT-ALUMNI INTERACTION EVENT
5TH AUGUST, 2022

The department initiated the student-alumni interaction for all the 1st year B. Com students in order to sensitize students on the Transformation that college education will bring in them. Alumni interaction was organised to make the first years understand the culture and practices of Loyola college.

Remigius vasanthan completed his graduation in Commerce during the academic year 2021-2022 and joined ICICI bank as a deputy manager through campus placements. He shared his experience and the transformation that Loyola College had brought in him. He started his sharing with the value of Loyola College as a brand in the industrial sphere and the manner in which it is perceived among the general public as well. He shared that his experience being a class representative and how interacting and working along with everyone molded him into a good team player. He shared about the various opportunities that were made available inside the campus to build and nurture organizing and leadership skills. He stressed the importance of maintaining a good percentage CGPA for placements. He also stressed the importance of completing outreach and club credits on time. He shared his experience with each teacher and their support, guidance and mentorship that helped in upscaling in career.

J. Patrick Praveen, another alumnus who pursued his graduation in B.com during the academic year 2021-2022 was invited to share his experience and insights with the 1st year B. Com students. He joined LIBA for his post-graduate program in management. He started his sharing how much he enjoyed being on the Loyola campus and he insisted on the importance of maintaining a good percentage of CGPA in first four semester for placements. Furthermore, he explained the role of Non-major Elective course also and relevance of internship opportunities for career development and skill development. He also mentioned

5TH AUGUST, 2022

The department initiated the student-alumni interaction for all the 1st year B. Com students in order to sensitize students on the Transformation that college education will bring in them. Alumni interaction was organized to make the first years understand the culture and practices of Loyola college.

Mr. Dasarathi Chittem a distinguished alumnus of the Shift II Department of Commerce who worked with a high earning profile quit his job to take up his UPSC exam. He delivered a spontaneous talk to the students of I B. Com (General)- B section about Loyola College and his journey of three years in this institution.

Mr. Dasarathi said that Loyola is a good platform for academics as well as non-academics. He insisted on attending classes and getting a good attendance percentage. He spoke about the importance of outreach program which allows gaining experience and exposure to external society. He also mentioned the level of placement provided to Loyola Commerce students.

He focused on deliberating and sharing his experience on academics first and co-curricular activities as one of the opportunities available to the students. He also emphasized the facilities available on the campus. He said that Students should not accumulate any arrear papers and said that everyone must clear their papers in the first instance. He also spoke about one extra language that a student should always learn which in turn will give an opportunity for the students to go abroad for higher studies or for placements. He also made it a point that he will assist the students in case they are pursuing their CA course (Chartered Accountancy). He concluded by saying that students should be very good in setting a goal and make sure they attain that goal at the right time.

Mr. Vishwanathan a distinguished alumnus of the Department of Commerce Shift II also delivered a talk about the college to the same set of students. He is currently working as a Relationship Manager in the ICICI bank. He spoke about the brand image of Loyola and its level of placement and facilities available in the library. He asked the students to grab all the opportunities that come their way and not miss anything whether it is attending a conference seminar or a workshop.

He also shared that the students would get a lot of attention and pride in studying in this institution. He spoke about placements and also asked the students to get ready to survive in this competitive world. He spoke about sports and cultural activities. He also made the students understand discipline, attending classes and gaining knowledge. He finally concluded by saying that the students have to enhance their skills and learn something new all the time.

Key takeaways

The following points were taken by the students through the speaker

- Importance of academics
- Loyola is a place to fine-tune the talents of students
- Loyola gives good exposure
- Placement is great because of the brand Loyola.
- Internship is a very good experience
- Great privilege to graduate from the Commerce department.
- The alumni assured assistance for career guidance.

REPORT ON STUDENT-ALUMNI INTERACTION EVENT

5TH AUGUST, 2022

About the Event:

The department initiated the student-alumni interaction for all the 1st year B. Com students in order to sensitize students on the Transformation that college education will bring in them. Two alumni of the 2019 batch Mr Bhavesh Kuma, Mr Chiranjeevi and Mr Deepak were invited to address the 1st year B. Com students that took place in CEF 12 (School of Commerce & Economics Building – 1st Floor).

Mr. Bhavesh, an alumnus passed out from Loyola during 2021-2022, cleared his CA (Inter) during the first two years of his under graduation and completed CFA group II exam during his third year. He shared students about his academic journey during his three years of education in the institution. He stressed the importance of discipline and attendance in college. He advised the students to participate in the cultural and sports events and other events organized by the college and choose activity clubs as per their interests. He inspired the students to bring out their hidden talents and let their friends or professors know so that they can provide with the required opportunities to exhibit the same. Participating in events and organizing them should be given equal weightage. He advised the students pursuing professional courses to manage their time well and be consistent in their performance.

Mr. Chirinjeevi, also an alumnus of the department of commerce completed his graduation in 2021-2022. Having currently placed in Price Water House Cooper through the placement cell of Loyola College, advised students to enroll in a professional course or pursue a PG degree after graduation for better career opportunities. He deliberated how social media platforms can be used effectively by students who cannot afford professional coaching. He emphasized on the fact that students should take placements very seriously and not be lethargic about them. He concluded by advising the students not to have any arrears, as it would pose hindrances during placements.

Mr Deepak, an alumnus of the department of commerce, Loyola college also completed his graduation during the year in 2021-2022. He was also a part of the Bonded Labor survey project organized by Dr. M Sivakumar in collaboration with the TN Labour Department. He began his speech by letting the students know that into a prestigious institution like Loyola is a privilege. He said that Loyola College is the best for placements and advised the students to make the best of these opportunities. He encouraged the students to check the notice board regularly to keep track of events happening in campus. He also told the students to participate in events and contribute to organize them. He also said that professors in Loyola College are kind enough to help students both academically and non-academically. He encouraged the students to make good use of the Loyola campus and counseling facilities.

Key takeaways

The following were the takeaways from the interaction with alumni:

- Discipline and attendance are the 1st step in tasting success;
- Active participation in cultural and sports events organized by the department, and college and getting involved in an extra-curricular activity like Clubs (NSS, EDC, etc.);
- Time management towards both professional courses and B Com;
- Taking a wise choice between a professional course & / or to pursuing a PG degree
- Have a dedicated and serious thought on placements and not be lethargic;
- Significance of clearing all the subjects at one instance without any arrears;
- Utilizing the opportunity of being a Loyolite to the maximum possible extent;
- Making the best use of training programs and taking part in placements actively;
- Keeping oneself up to date by checking Notice Boards regularly

REPORT ON STUDENT-ALUMNI INTERACTION EVENT

5TH AUGUST, 2022

The department initiated the student-alumni interaction for all the 1st year B. Com students in order to sensitize students on the Transformation that college education will bring in them. Alumni interaction was organised to make the first years understand the culture and practices of Loyola college. Four alumni members from the department of commerce (shift-2) were invited to interact with the students:

1. Mr. Kevin A George, Operation analyst – Mortgage Operations (UK), Royal Bank of Scotland, NatWest group.
2. Mr. Srivathsan, Complaine Team, Investment branch, Societe Generale.
3. Mr. Mohammed Thueeq, M. A. International Relations (Pursuing), Loyola college.
4. Mr. Hari Ganapathy, Pursing Chartered Accountant.

Mr. Kevin A George, addressed the students on his college life, facilities available in college like LSSS, Placement and Training cell, central library, mid-day meals and how these helped him to excel in his career. He also shared his experience in participating and gaining exposure in cultural and sports activities. He shared about the recruitment process and advised the students to be strong on the basic concepts.

Mr Srivathsan, shared his experience in college especially playing the role of event secretary in the commerce forum. He elaborated about the cultural activities like ovations, intaglio and other college cultural. He also explained about the OD, medical leave and causal leave procedures and limits.

Mr. Mohammed Thueeq addressed the students on various facilities available in college like library, scholarships and mid-day meals. He also addressed his experience as publication secretary in Commerce Forum 2021-22, he also clarified students doubt on attendance, publication, research article and writing skills. He suggested the students approach the faculties to enrich their writing skills.

Mr Hari Ganapathy addressed the students on managing academics. He shared his inputs on chartered accountancy and his experience on handling college syllabus and CA exams. He advised the students not to give on both the things and encouraged them to get involved in extracurricular activities.

Key takeaways:

The following are the key takeaways from the interaction.

1. Acquaintance on the facilities offered / provided by the college to students and its beneficiary to the students' community.
2. Enlightenment about the functioning of commerce forum, involvement, participation and organising activities which would imbibe in them the organising abilities and skills.
3. Importance of placements, training, pursuing higher studies and extracurricular activities.
