About the programme

The pandemic has become a blessing in disguise, and every dark cloud has a silver lining. Like every other sector, education has also learned its lessons the hard way from the prevailing Covid-19. As every education institution is the gateway that enables their students to fit into the industry, there is a dire need to orient the students to prepare them for the job market efficiently, matching the dynamics of the times.

Loyola College, being a premier institution and the forerunner of any vibrant activity, the Department of Commerce is happy to initiate an orientation programme, on the theme "SKILLING FOR INDUSTRY 4.0 - POST-PANDEMIC PREPAREDNESS", where enthusiastic Human Resource Personnel with wide expertise from diversified sectors, will share the industry expectations. This orientation programme intends to prepare the outgoing students for a transition from campus to successful career calling.

The School of Commerce and Economics, joining hands with "Loyola College Alumni Association UAE-GCC Chapter" and "Loyola Placement Cell", will be initiating this half a day orientation on the aforesaid theme. The orientation will have three sessions, and the target participants are the outgoing students of UG and PG students of the Department of Commerce and Economics. Let us join together, to know the expectations from the industry personnel to prepare our students for the future.
