

Guest Lecture on Comparative Literature

A Guest Lecture on Comparative Literature – “One Humanity, One Literature, with reference to Sangam Poetry in Tamil” was organized by the Department of English, Shift II, Loyola College, Chennai on February 22, 2019. The speaker, Dr. Papu Benjamin Elango, Head, Department of English (Rtd), St. Joseph's College, Trichy juxtaposed the idea in which Literature and Humanity go hand in hand. In his speech, he quoted various literary texts from the Sangam Era to emphasize the need for every student to return to their roots (Mother Tongue) to contribute more to the world. Dr. K.S Antonysamy, Head, Department of English welcomed the speaker with a memento and delivered the keynote address. Prof. Meera introduced the speaker of the day. Dr. Asaithambi thanked the gathering. Mr. Atul was the master of ceremony. Prof. Leo Joseph organized the event.

The poster features a central crest at the top with a shield divided into four quadrants, topped with a crown and a banner that reads "LUCEAT LUX VESTRA". Below the crest, the text is arranged in a formal, centered layout. The background is a textured, parchment-like gold color with faint floral patterns. The main title "One humanity" and "One literature" are written in a large, elegant, black script font. The speaker's name and affiliation are in a bold, black sans-serif font. The date and time are in a smaller, black sans-serif font. The names of the organizers are at the bottom in a black sans-serif font.
