

INAUGURATION OF THE ENGLISH LITERARY ASSOCIATION 2019-2020

The inauguration of the English literary association which was conducted on 30th July, 2019 in the Yeddapalli hall at around 11:30 am was a fruitful and an inspiring event. The chief guest of the day was Mr.G. Olivannan, who also happened to be an alumnus of the Loyola College. The chief guest was accompanied by the Head of the Department Dr. K. S Antony Samy, the association president of the literary association Dr. Annam Ragamalika, the vice president of the literary association Prof. J. Julia Pradeepa, the secretary of the department N. Anish Jackson, cultural secretary Haritha Harshan, joint secretary Bosco Thomas Kalloli and sports secretary Arul Ronald in the dais. The inauguration began with the singing of hymn by the undergraduate students of the department. The hymn was followed by the lighting ceremony which was followed by the formal introduction of the chief guest given by the head of the department and the felicitation of the dignitaries. A special memento was presented to the chief guest after which he was asked to address the crowd. The chief guest left no opportunity to inspire the crowd of young and budding intellectuals in front of him. Calling the millennial privileged in ways which were not known before, he urged the students to make the most of the opportunity which was presented to them.

