Introducing the speaker

M. Abishek Joseph III B.A

Dr. Vasanthi Vijayakumar shared her memories and mentioned of the close bond she shared with the staff at Loyola College and quoted it was like a second home coming. She spoke on the importance of taking up history and also made a hint on the History Association being inaugurated on the same day as the birth of Madras. She also stressed the student gathering to find the purpose of their life and focused on it by setting themselves certain long-term goals and working sincerely towards it. Her thirty minutes speech was highly motivating. She has emphasized on life purposes as, starting point of life is a point towards finding on life purposes and we should have a long and short term goals, clarity in finding important and unimportant things, we should have a direction and meaning in life and we should have constant drive and passion. The above four purposes will lead you to achieve the success.
