The programme began with a prayer song by the department choir, followed by the lighting of the lamp by the Chief Guest, Heads, and office bearers of the Association. Nidhin D, Department Secretary of Shift-I, delivered the welcome address. Dr Biju Joseph P J honoured the Chief Guest with a shawl and Dr A. Arputha Selvi with a memento.

Dr Anuradha, Head of the Department, felicitated the guests during the inauguration programme and welcomed the participants. Prof. J. Ranganathan, the Coordinator, addressed the gathering and introduced the Chief Guest, Mr Swarna Sethuraman, Vice-President, TNCC and Member, AICC.

The Chief Guest's inaugural address highlighted the importance of education by quoting Nelson Mandela. According to Nelson Mandela, "How can we destroy a nation? You don't need missiles, atom bombs or other weapons. You only need to destroy the education system of that country. The collapse of education is the collapse of the nation." A nation prospers because of educated minds. He urged us to take education seriously and bear the fruit of it. He also spoke about the importance of history. "History is everywhere around us. Every monument, statue, and place has a history to tell. Knowing the history of a place will make our journey more enthusiastic."

On leadership qualities, he said, "The courage you showed to come forward is the first quality of a leader. Hope that you will make our country proud". He delivered a powerful message urging students to uphold their responsibility towards their families and nation.
