

Script Writing

Mr. Bhaskar Shakti is a well-known script writer who has won various awards for his works. Currently he is the creative Head of Colors Television. He wrote script for various Tamil serials for more than 10 years. He also wrote a script for Natheswaram serial of Sun Network which won a Guinness award. A script writing workshop was conducted by him for the students of Visual Communication on 22nd September 2017.

He started the session with an interaction to understand the students' knowledge on script. Then he shared his basic ideas to start a script and explained the process of script writing. Further he divided the students into five groups and requested each team to come with one line for the script to be written by them at the end of the workshop.

After the discussion of one line, he had given a few more examples to develop the script to the next level. He has also shown an episode of Antha 10 Natkal serial telecast by Sun Network. The students were asked to come up with the treatment during the post lunch session. After the lunch each team presented the treatment of their one line and he gave feedback.

Then he screened an episode of Natheswaram serial of Sun Network and explained the students on how to take up the stories to a next level. By end of the session each team submitted a five minutes fiction script and the same was reviewed by him. The students were excited to learn from the master and gave overwhelming feedback about the session.
