Accomplishments

ENACTUS in the Academic Year 2014-2015

ENACTUS has had a past that has involved activities for the welfare of the society. Keeping this in mind, this year too ENACTUS has carried out lot of events helped a lot and bring a change in the student society. The events were actively supported by the college and under the supervision of the faculty advisors Dr. G. Jeyajothi (Shift-I) & Prof. J. P. Angelena (Shift-II). During the tenure of the academic year 2014-2015, 60 students have been enrolled from shift-I and shift-II and actively participated all events carried out by the club. During this tenure we conducted 5 major programmes and 7 small activities. On the 5 major programmes, Vermicompost, Bio-pesticide preparation and Terrace gardening were the remarkable ones and society upliftment oriented.

Inauguration

On September 2nd 2014 we successfully inaugurated the club headed by GauriKamat Program Manager, West and South and Anitha Nallasekharan, Program Manager (South) Enactus India. Dr. Martin Luther William, Dean of Students of our College was addressed our club students. GauriKamat Program Manager, West and South, Enactus, India highlighted the importance and the ambition of the club through power point and video clippings. Anitha Nallasekharan, Program Manager (South) Enactus India also pointed out some of the important events and gave orientation to the enrolled students in Enactus. The newly registered students were very eager to clarify their doubts regarding the club. The existing office bearers Mr. Sivam (President), Mr. Surya (Vice President)red the annual report of the year 2013-14 and also introduced the newly selected office bearers Mr.Vibin (President), Mr. Arul (Vice President), Mr.Kausikganesh (Secretary), Mr. Vishwanath (Joint Secretary). Dr. G. Jeyajothi, The faculty advisor introduces the volunteers of the club. Finally the Programme was successfully ended with National Anthem.

Training Programme on Vermicompost, Bio-Pesticide Preparation & Mushroom Cultivation

This was the first Programme of the club, conducted on 6th DECEMBER, 2014. Two resource persons were invited from ERI (Entomology research institute) Dr. G. Nattudurai M.Sc., M.Phil., and Ph.D., has 10 years of experience on Vermicompost & Bio-pesticide preparation. He explained everything very nicely through power point presentation and also specifically by hands on training. The second resource person Dr. R. Govindaraj M.Sc.,M.Phil., focused Mushroom cultivation and their Medical applications. He demonstrated the mushroom cultivation through power point presentation and practically also. Finally the students along with the faculty advisors went to the field visit to ERI to see the Vermicompost Farm and saw the research on Mushroom and the museum of mushroom. The students were shown their enthusiasm in each and every action over questions. Our present mushroom cultivators had a great interaction with the research scholars.

Training Programme on Terrace and Urban Gardening

On 10th January, 2015 we organized a training programme on Terrace gardening to the club students. Mr. Kern Agarwal was the guest of speaker, he has more than five years of experience on Terrace garden. He established a very nice Terrace garden on the Terrace of LIBA, Loyola College. He gave a nice speech through power point interaction. At end of the session the students interaction was appreciable one. Finally we made a field visit to LIBA Terrace to see the Terrace Garden. The students were shown more interest on Terrace Garden. The remarkable point to mention here that seven students were learned the Terrace garden techniques under Mr. Kern Agarwal, in their own efforts and also had a future plan to become a future Entrepreneurs on making Terrace Garden and give an awareness programme among Chennai city people.

Student Interaction Programme with Anitha Nallasekharan, Program Manager (South) ENACTUS India

On 10th January, 2015, The faculty advisors made an interaction programme for club students with Anitha Nallasekharan, program manager (south) enactus India. The students got clear vision and motto of the club after the session.
