

Chennai Literary Festival at Loyola College

In association with CLF, WEPRO organized the following events primarily to offer the city students a platform to acquire skills both academic and employable.

Workshop on Academic Writing

A one day Workshop on “Academic Writing” was organized by WEPRO, Loyola College & Chennai Literary Festival on 10th January 2017 mainly to expose the city students to the research writing culture. Mr. Olivannan, founder president of Chennai Literary Association emphasized the need for students making writing both creative and academic a habit so that they may excel in their career. Dr. Joseph Chandra, Head, Department of English, Loyola College reiterated the importance of academic writing in the career of students especially at higher education level. Dr. J. Mangayarkarasi, Associate Professor, Ethiraj College for Women and Prof. Soumi Sinha Ray, Assistant Professor, Ethiraj College for Women conducted the workshop on academic writing.

Debate in Tamil

A debate in Tamil was organized in LIBA Auditorium to encourage and develop the oratorical skills especially in Tamil among the internet infested younger generations. Hundreds of students from city colleges participated in it. Prof. Nellai Subbhaiah was the moderator and cash prizes of Rs. 5000 for the winner and Rs. 3000 & Rs. 1000 for others good speakers. Mrs. Latha Rajan, President, Chennai Literary Association and Mr. Olivannan, founder president of Chennai Literary Association, Mr. Kumaravel, Secretary, CLA were present during the occasion. Mr. Abirami Ramanathan addressed the percipients and urged them to promote the debating skills in Tamil.

Dr. K.S. Antonysamy, Director, WEPRO and an executive member of CLA organized these two events on behalf of Loyola College and CLA.

Mrs Latha Rajan inaugurates Tamil Debate

Mementoes presented

Mr Olivannan addresses the Participants

Participants of Workshop

Guests of CLF Tamil Debate